Case Management/Delogierungsprävention Wiener Wohnen Kundenservice

Rosa-Fischer-Gasse 2, 1030

Wiener Wohnen has a team of social workers who work for the company to help tenants who are threatened with eviction and have not yet contacted Wiener Wohnen ("Case Management"). The aim is to avoid losing your home, for example by creating an instalment plan. Sometimes you just have to explain that the rent has to be paid monthly and is now due.

The highest priority is given to families with children under 18, pensioners and young adults aged 20 to 30. For whatever reason, those affected often fail to find out about solutions or support options in a timely and independent manner. Case management offers support and help here.

Chancenhaus Wurlitzergasse Unterbringung für Erwachsene und Paare - Accomodation for adults and couples Obdach Wien (FSW)

Wurlitzergasse 89, 1170

Moving in as an opportunity: In principle, Obdach Wurlitzergasse is open to all homeless adults and couples – even without a current funding permit. You can usually live in the Chancenhaus and receive care for up to three months. This gives you the opportunity to develop future prospects and work on personal goals from day one.

The team at the Chancenhaus provides support, for example, in clarifying requirements and subsequent housing options. It is also available to help with questions about money, health or coexistence: What to do if you have financial difficulties? How do I deal with crises? Who do I contact if I have health or mental problems? We also offer support with applications, dealing with authorities and finding accommodation. When people leave the Chancenhaus, they do so with clarity about their possibilities and future prospects.

Equipment and additional offers: The furnished single and double rooms are divided into living groups that have toilets and washrooms. In addition, communal kitchens invite you to cook for yourself. The large laundry room is open to all residents. Common rooms, such as the Viennese living room, offer space for exchange and leisure activities. A fitness room is available for sports enthusiasts.
