Help Desk on support to social services
to respond to Covid-19 crisis

The European Commission is mobilizing all means at their disposal to face the challenges brought by COVID-19 outbreak. One of the measures put in place is the Coronavirus Response Investment Initiative (CRII and CRII Plus) which seeks to redirect unspent EU Structural Funds to national, regional & local communities fighting COVID-19.

The CRII has a fundamental role to play in addressing the impact of the pandemic in social services across the EU. Due to the COVID-19, some social services have been forced to close while many of them have swiftly adapted to ensure care and support within the current circumstances and rules (social distancing, etc.). The CRII foresees the adaptation of the ESIF rules to respond to this situation but there is still a lot of uncertainty on how this rules work and especially how social services can benefit from the new flexibility and the opening of new funding opportunities.

This webinar is bringing together all relevant actors at national and European levels—EC, Managing Authorities, service providers and organisations representing social services users’- to engage in a constructive dialogue and exchange of innovative ideas on how to use the CRII to ensure the continuity and quality of care and support services. Inspired by the Partnership Principle, this activity is meant to be the starting of a stable and fruitful cooperation to jointly plan and design the ESIF funding opportunities addressing both the short and long term challenges of social services across the EU.
